OVERVIEW:

Bravo's DEF combination UDC is offered in the B1000 series. This UDC provides containment for the hydraulic cabinet and a separate containment for the DEF. Being compartmentalized isolates the DEF containment heaters from the fuel side of the dispenser while still allowing leak detection. Manufactured from fuel compatible resin that doesn't require gel coat for corrosion resistance. Available in single wall or double wall VPH configurations that are AB2481 compliant and exempt from triennial testing when constantly monitored.

SPECIFICATIONS:

- Models for all popular DEF dispensers
- Separate DEF containment chamber
- Double wall models are triennial testing exempt
- Electrical offset frame eliminates the need for conduit penetrations
- 30-year corrosion warranty
- UL2447 listed
